FOSS WANTS 'EM ALL

To be Candidate for Governor, Senator and Also Congressman

AS THE EXAMINER SEES IT

The Man Whom Collier's Weekly Called a "Wobblor" Is "Going to be There Like a Duck" With His Nerve

Says the Chicago Examiner: Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—Representative George Edmund Foss of the Tenth district is taking his proposed candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois seriously. Also, the people of his district and of Evanston in particular are taking it seriously.

It can be taken as settled that Mr. Foss is going to be a candidate for one or two offices—governor or United States senator. Just now the governorship race is buzzing loudest. He feels he will have Governor Deneen as an opponent for the senatorship and despite reports from home that the governor is making mistakes, the race for the governorship looks easy to Mr. Foss.

Since it was first suggested in the Examiner that Mr. Foss might want to run for governor, there have been two delegations from home asking him to make the race, and besides that he has had a flood of encouraging letters and if he does, or rather when he does, become a candidate for a higher place, he is not going to make the mistake of starting too late, that he made in the last senatorial campaign. It is conceded by most of the Illinois politicians and firmly believed by Mr. Foss, that if he had announced his candidacy for the senate earlier he would have defeated Hopkins and that the state would have kept William Lorimer in the lower house.

Mr. Foss has a notion that the way the governorship fight is shaping up that it offers a good chance for a Chicago man. The present indications in view of the congressional delegation are that Andrew J. Russell will have the support of Governor Deneen and his state organization. In fact the Illinois congressman believes the governor's faction has a slate already made up, which reads about as follows:

For United States senator, Charles S. Deneen; for governor, Andrew J. Russell; for treasurer (two years hence) a down state man, to follow a Chicagoan to be named this year; for secretary of state, James A. Rose; for auditor, James McCullough; for attorney general, W. H. Stand.

But there will be other candidates for governor. Richard Yates, Congressman W. A. Rodenberg, Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby are considered certain. Congressman Pleasant T. Chaumain is a probability, and there are a lot more "thinking about it" down state. Chicago has thus far produced but one candidate, John M. Glenn, with State's Attorney Wayman in the "thinking about it" class. So to Mr. Foss, the chances look good for another Chicagoan.

Says another Chicago paper:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—The most receptive of the receptive candidates for governor of Illinois to succeed Governor Charles S. Deneen is Congressman George Edmund Foss, according to political folks who think they know a candidate when they see one. About twenty-five of his constituents journeyed to Washington last week to tell the congressman that they intended to put him in the running, and he is unsuccessful in restraining their enthusiasm. It is reported that other delegations are on the way.

This does not mean that Mr. Foss no longer is a candidate for United States senator to succeed Shelby M. Cullom. He is a senatorial candidate and also he is a candidate for re-election to congress next fall. The last time he ran he was a candidate for only two jobs—senator and representative—but this time he is going to play it across the board.

Mr. Foss, it is understood, thinks he has a better chance to be governor than senator. Senator Cullom is certain to be a candidate for re-election, and Foss is not one of the foolhardy ones who would try to defeat your Uncle Shelby. Besides, he doesn't think it likely that the Republicans of the state would stand for two senators from Chicago, notwithstanding the fact that Senator Lorimer is 61 per cent a Democrat.

NEW POSTOFFICE OPENED

First Mail Tuesday Morning Distributed at New Quarters.

Tuesday morning, March 1, the first day of spring, marked the opening of Antioch's much-talked-of new postoffice. For the past twelve years the postoffice has been situated in very small, inconvenient quarters partitioned off of Williams Bros. store and the change that is now made to more commodious, better fitted quarters is one that is much appreciated by the many patrons of the office.

The office is now located on the east side of Main street, south of the Keulman jewelry store, and is fitted up with entire new fixtures in a manner that would do credit to a much larger town. The interior of the building is neatly finished in oak and the large windows in both front and rear furnish an abundance of light.

The boxes are numbered from 1 to 320, the lock boxes ranging from 1 to 118 and are equipped with combination locks, thus doing away with the necessity of carrying a key. Three windows form a part of the equipment, one for registered mail and money orders, one for stamps and general delivery and one for mail from the rented boxes other than lock boxes. There is also three receptacles for mail, one large one for packages and one for letters and one for papers. With these ample facilities for handling the mail much of the confusion that has always existed at mail times is done away with.

The work of moving was begun Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning all was in readiness for the distribution of the early mail at the new quarters, and the many compliments received on all sides by Postmaster Williams showed very plainly the sentiment of the people in regard to having the office located in quarters more in keeping with the progress of the town.

START WORK ON SKOKIE

Monumental Work That Is to Drain 30,000 Acres Waste Land Begun at Last

The big 100 foot dredge of the Nappanee, Indiana contractors has begun its work of scooping out the Skokie drainage ditch and Friday the first four or five shovelfuls were dumped out.

The ditch will be ten miles long and beginning at a point near Roundout will go south to a point in south Deerfield, where it will empty into a ravine, whence the drainage waters will go down into a creek and to the lake.

The project is important because it redeems above 30,000 acres of what has been waste land and already the farmers and other owners are hiking the process.

Besides this, the ditch will set a pace for other like projects to be originated and much fertile gardening land will be added to the county's area.

Due to the lack of water to float the big dredge, a dam was built and now things are going on swimmingly.

A big hole has been scooped out for the dredge to give it a start and hereafter it will with its shovel scoop out the swamp earth and travel as it makes its own channel. When it gets a half mile south of Roundout, the St. Paul tracks will be lifted to let it pass, a job that will take twenty minutes, but that has required 200 men to prepare for.

Besides the Hagen settlement, which was made Monday, four contracts for laterals are to be let. The combined laterals are an open or plow ditch 6,800 feet long and 3,800 feet of fifteen inch tiling.

The largest private estate that the ditch will drain is part of the Armour estate.

The open or plow ditch will be six feet wide at the top, two at the bottom, and four feet deep. The main ditch is about twenty feet wide at the top, six at the bottom and ten deep. It will not be navigable.

The work is a monumental one in every way.

ANNA ALICE WILLEY DIED AT INGLESIDE LAST SUNDAY

On Friday February 29, at the home of her parents at Ingleside occurred the death of Miss Anna Alice Willey.

She was born on the fourteenth day of August 1874 and passed away on the twenty-fifth day of February at the age of thirty-five years six months and eleven days.

For the past twenty-five years she has resided at Fox Lake where she was a general favorite with all who knew her. She was never very strong but has always displayed an unusual amount of fortitude and patience with all her sufferings, and her kind and gentle disposition has endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Willey, and also by three brothers.

The funeral was held on Sunday last with burial in the Grant cemetery.

KILLED BY THE CARS

David Rooney of Camp Lake Truck by Train at Silver Lake Crossing

BODY HORRIBLY MANGLED

Had Been to Silver Lake and Was Returning Home When Accident Occurred; Every Bone in Body Broken

Early Wednesday morning the badly mangled body of a man was discovered lying on the siding of the Soo Line railroad near the crossing at Silver Lake depot.

It was with some difficulty that the remains were identified, but investigation proved them to be those of David Rooney of Camp Lake.

At what time the accident occurred or by what train the unfortunate man might have been struck is not known and can not be ascertained, but it is the general supposition that it occurred some time during the early part of the previous evening. The exact details of the accident will always remain a mystery, but it is thought that he was struck by the milk train on the main track and his body thrown onto the siding, where it was later backed down upon by an ice train that was switching box cars, and mangled in the most terrible manner.

Rooney had gone to Silver Lake some time during the day Tuesday, for the purpose of having some shoe repairing done, and after having spent the afternoon there he started to return to his home at Camp Lake in the early part of the evening. That was the last seen of him alive and the next morning his mangled remains were found. He in all probability having failed to notice the approach of the train, and meeting his death while on his homeward journey.

Rooney was a man very well known in the vicinity of Wilmet and Camp Lake where his entire life has been spent. For the past number of years he has been employed at the various ice houses in the vicinity and was a person well liked by his fellow workmen and associates.

Rooney was an unmarried man, about forty-six years of age. He has one brother John who resides at Camp Lake and one sister Mrs. Thos. Radcliff of Bristol.

ROBERT SELTER MARRIED TUESDAY IN CHICAGO

A complete surprise seems to have been sprung upon the residents of Grass Lake and vicinity the fore part of the week, when it was learned that one of the most popular of their number had quietly slipped away to Chicago where he was united in marriage to the lady of his choice.

The contracting parties were Robert Selter of Grass Lake and Mrs. Emma Erskine of Wadsworth, the ceremony being performed in Chicago at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

So carefully were their plans laid that not even their most intimate friends were aware of their intentions until word was received from the "Genial Bob" stating that the former Mrs. Erskine was now entitled to the name of Selter.

The bride is a resident of Waukegan but in former years her home was in the vicinity of Wadsworth. She is a well known and highly respected lady with a large circle of friends who are extending to her best wishes for a happy future.

The groom is the well known proprietor of Selter's Sportsmen's home and is one of Grass Lake's most popular hotel keepers. He is a man of high standing in the community and is well worthy of the bride he has chosen.

Mr. and Mrs. Selter are expected to return to their future home at Grass Lake the latter part of the week.

The News unites with their many friends in extending to them most hearty congratulations.

NOTICE

Beginning Sunday evening, March 6, Rev. Oscar Lowry and Prof. George Moody will hold a series of gospel meetings in the Armory, Waukegan. Ten churches have united in the campaign and the city expects a great awakening. Non-residents, while trading or visiting in the city, are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

JAMES MAKES THE WEATHER

The Real Bonafide Government Weather is Turned Out and Finished at Antioch

SO SAYS WAUKEGAN SUN

To be Just Exactly Right All Weather Must Come From Lake Resort—The February Weather Report

Of course, you've heard of and visited the village of Antioch.

But did you ever know that, besides entertaining probably 100,000 summer resorters a year it is the Medicine Hat of Lake county, where all the real bonafide, government approved and inspected weather is turned out?

Fact. You can't have the genuine official red tape weather unless with the approval of J. C. James of Antioch, who is the Lake county seer, and who turns in the reports from which the government makes up its annual statement of what the weather has been hereabouts.

To be just exactly right and accurate Antioch is the site of the Lake county meteorological station. That's a long word, but it fits the weather factory. And the fact that the meteorological station gathers and is all crammed together and pushed into one mass into the annual climatological service of the United States weather bureau at Washington, where the grand daddy of all weather prophets and seers lives—Willis L. Moore.

Antioch is one of the main stations in the three weather bureau divisions of the state, northern, central and western. Now that this explanation is out of the system, here are the official Lake county weather facts:

Average temperature Antioch district, 30 to 35. Lake shore, including Waukegan, 35 to 40.

Feb. 1902—Warmest day 48 on the 26th. Coldest day 9 below on the 5th. Average temperature 18.10. Total rainfall 1.40 inches.

People Who Argue

There are some people who are never convinced. They will argue a subject out for hours at a stretch, and be no nearer a solution than they were at the start.

It is hopeless to try to convince such a person on any subject. The truth is, it gives them pleasure to argue, and the more you disagree with them the better they are pleased. If you find yourself dropping into the habit, try to drop out again as soon as possible.

CLAIMS HE WAS AT HOME

This Will be the Defense of John Gallagher in Coming Trial

Attorney E. V. Orvis, of Waukegan for the first time since being retained as counsel for John Gallagher, the Wadsworth young man who is charged with having tried to kill Loretta Doyle and her escort near Wadsworth on July 10 last, gave out an idea of what Gallagher's defense will be.

Gallagher will claim in the trial which may start in circuit court next week, that he was not anywhere near the place of shooting on the night in question which he and the others had attended. He will prove through his relatives that such is the fact.

As regards his disappearance the next day after the shooting in which the pair nearly lost their lives, he contends that he had planned all summer to go into the Dakota wheat fields to work and that the 11th of July was the day set long before to leave. He accordingly left on that day and did not sneak away, merely taken a morning train as per original plans.

He claims that he returned to Kenosha a few months later, that he went to Wadsworth several times, that, in place, as well as Kenosha, he frequently saw and talked to people he knew, which, in his opinion, shows that he was not trying to hide himself. He states that he never went under an assumed name and in no way made effort to prevent himself being known and seen.

He states that, following his return to Kenosha he frequently attended dances where there were Waukegan and other Lake county men who knew him well.

The case against Henry Amann, for murder, is the first of the criminal cases to be tried and that may be started Monday afternoon. The Gallagher case will follow.

Amann is the man charged with stabbing to death the little boy at Fort Sheridan a couple of years ago, the long delay in the trial being due to the fact that Amann had a damage case in the supreme court wherein he had awarded a $3,500 judge against the Chicago City Railway company for personal injuries and he awaited decision of the high court in order to get money for defense in his murder trial.

The plan is to go right ahead with the criminal cases the first week of court this term instead of letting them go over until the second or third week as has usually been done.

TWO MEN BADLY INJURED

In Accident Monday Evening at Winthrop Harbor Coal Chutes

Two men were badly injured as the result of an accident on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad which occurred at the coal chutes at Winthrop Harbor Monday evening at 12:30 o'clock when two cars broke loose from the train and dropped thirty feet to the ground.

The injured men are: Otto Weiland, conductor, 30 years old, muscles of back badly strained; bruised chest, perhaps fractured rib; other minor bruises.

William Hanson, brakeman, 21 years old, bad cut at base of skull; bruise over right eye; severe bruises on each elbow; severe bruise on thigh; left ankle sprained.

Both men were picked up in an unconscious condition and were placed aboard a specially made up train and rushed to Waukegan, where they were removed to the Jane McAlister hospital. Dr. E. Ford Gavin, physician for the railroad company, was summoned and cared for the men's injuries. He declares that while the condition of the two men is serious that he does not think that their injuries will prove fatal.

The accident occurred in rather a peculiar manner. Weiland was standing at the top of the chutes, signalling for the engineer to back his train up the incline. Hanson was standing on top of one of the cars.

When the first two cars reached the top of the incline it appeared that the engineer did not stop his engine quickly enough and as a result the end of the first car tore through the partition at the rear of the chutes and dropped to the ground. Another car followed, each breaking loose from the rest of the train.

Hanson was hurled to the ground by the force of the shock. Weiland was partly crushed between one of the cars and the side of the chute. He fell unconscious to the ground. Dr. Gavin declares that both men escaped death in a miraculous manner.

Virtues of a High Order. Punctuality, assiduity, economy, ingenuity, interest in our tasks; these may be described as commonplace virtues, but they are certainly not virtues absolutely common.

AFTER POSTAL WRITER

Slandorous Cards Sent to the Mother of a Waukegan Society Girl

CALL SECRET SERVICE MAN

Parents of Girl Insulted Refuse to Prosecute Anonymous Assassin, But Will on Second Offense

There is one girl in Waukegan who can thank a level headed father and mother who were disposed to be merciful for the fact that she was not within a few days arrested and held by United States secret service men for the alleged sending of improper postals through the United States mails.

As it is the lesson of the narrow escape will probably be a salutary one that will keep others from falling into the same snare.

The objectionable postal cards were two in number and were mailed in the Waukegan office at different times to the mother of a Waukegan girl of a very prominent family.

They never reached the woman to whom they were addressed because the postal authorities at once took them out of the mails in the post office and put two secret service operatives on the track of the sender.

One postal card addressed to the mother of the girl asserted that the young woman had been confined in a Chicago hospital for a disgraceful thing. The other intimated that the incident was to be repeated.

There was not a shred or trace of truth in the contents of either postal card, the parents and friends assert positively.

The Chicago secret service men on being detailed to the case went to Waukegan to see the girl's parents. Calling on the prominent family they urged that the family prosecute the offending sender of the unsigned and anonymous cards to the limit, which would have meant a large sized scandal for Waukegan.

The plan was that the parents would get a sample of the handwriting of the one they suspected of sending the cards and then experts would determine whether or not the girl under suspicion was the same writer who sent the cards. The parents, after thinking and talking the matter over with their intimate friends, agreed that they would not prosecute, but that they would hand out the story to be published, so that the unknown writer of the cards would read it and take warning.

"We do not charge that the girl we suspect actually wrote and addressed the cards," said the father, who is very prominent socially, "and there is not a shred of direct evidence, but there are things in the past that would lead us to suspect only one person."

"Our daughter is never out of our sight and is blameless of any wrong of any kind. The postal cards contained the foulest kind of slander against her good name, and we would be justified in taking the strongest kind of measures against the sender, whoever she is. As it is, we think the warning will be salutary and desire to say that another card will mean only one thing for us—prosecution to the limit."

"We believe that the cards were inspired by a woman with whom we urged our daughter-in-law to break associations socially and were sent in a spirit of pure revenge and spite towards her to wreck the reputation of one near and dear to us. We are glad that they did not accomplish their mission, thanks to the vigilance of Uncle Sam and the post office and are willing to forget as matters stand."

Stilted Journalism. Journalists on the island of St. Helena throw much literary style into their work. A weather report in the Guardian reads: "The weather during the past week has been rather warm. King Sol shining in all his glory, while fair Luna beamed so brilliantly that it was quite possible to read small print."

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Suffragists Plan to Charm the Senate

WASHINGTON.—The annual national convention of women suffragists, which will be held in Washington the week of April 14, will be the most notable gathering of its kind in point of numbers and personnel that ever has taken place in this country.

Never before have women of such wealth and social position journeyed to the national capitol to press their cause. Their presence will be celebrated by Washington society with a round of social functions. Many of the society delegates will wear their most fetching toilettes to the convention and they hope to convert many statesmen by showing them that it is not only the masculine type of women who want the ballot.

There is another and more potent reason for the fair suffragists wearing their most elaborate costumes. For the first time the women delegates will appear in person before the senate. They will present to the upper house of congress the giant petition for several years from every state in the union. The petition praying for universal suffrage contains more than 1,000,000 names.

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Equal Franchise society, will be one of the delegates. Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont will be one of the representatives of the Political Equality association.

Many suffragists in New York have become greatly exercised over the recent meeting held by Mrs. Belmont at the Mount Olivet Baptist church, at which she took many negro women into her organization. It has caused many to speculate as to the possibility of enfranchising the negro women of the southern states. Many letters have been exchanged during the past week between the New York women and the suffragist workers in the south discussing the manner in which the colored woman's vote can be eliminated.

"If we got the vote," "Yes," said Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, "it is true that the southern women wish to bar the colored woman from voting. But as the national association stands for universal suffrage at all times and in all places, we cannot countenance this action of the southern women. The southern states that belong to the national association are Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Maryland and Tennessee."

Mrs. Belmont gave out the following statement regarding her stand on the matter:

"I do not consider the suffrage question a social question in any sense of the word. It is purely a political question and must only be considered as such. The matter of political equality has no connection with social equality. I think each state has the right to settle this matter for itself."

Monk Chases Longworth Dinner Guests

IF COL. ROOSEVELT is having any more thrilling adventures in Africa than a number of distinguished persons had in the dining room of his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, in Washington, they think he owes it to his family to come home at once.

According to the tidings brought to the front by the society reporters, there was a monkey hunt at the Longworths that left the company duly impressed with the terrors of the jungle.

It appears that Representative and Mrs. Longworth were giving a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York. Along toward the close of the dinner the talk drifted to animals, and Mrs. Longworth described two pet monkeys who recently acquired. The guests expressed a desire to see the animals and Mrs. Longworth had the cage carried into the dining room.

In some way the door of the cage became unfurnished and one of the monkeys escaped. It leaped to the center of the table, and, turning a handspring, climbed to the chandelier, where it hung by its tail and chattered at the company. The women shrieked and scrambled to their chairs, while the men fell over each other in trying to evolve measures of protection and at the same time capture the beast.

The monkey eluded the brave hunters with ease. It sprang from the chandelier to the sideboard, ran around the room three or four times, while the women and some of the men went rapidly out of the nearest doors. Then it vaulted into the plate rail, where it did a few stunts to the damage of much bric-a-brac. Finally it intruded itself behind a jardiniere, where eventually it was captured.

When the monkey was restored to its cage and quiet had settled down over the dinner once more, Mrs. Bourke Cockran, who is visiting Gen. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards, expressed the opinion that there was something wrong with the construction of the most provided for Mrs. Longworth's pet.

She had been in the Philippines and she thought she knew something about the building of homelike monkey nests. Cotton and soft grass were produced, and Mrs. Cockran proceeded to rearrange the monkey's home.

The beasts did not appreciate her efforts, however, and one of them bit her thumb. A physician examined the wound and said there would be no dangerous consequences.

Enough Useful Animals to Destroy Man

IF ALL the useful animals in the world were to organize themselves for revolt against the cruelties of man they would outnumber any human army that could be brought against them, even if every man, woman and child marched from the four corners of the earth to enlist.

The department of agriculture at Washington has issued a report showing that the number of useful animals more than equals the population of the earth.

Gen. Bellweather could organize his sheep into a division of 580,000,000, outnumbering the Chinese by more than 100,000,000. The horse could have a cavalry division of more than 95,000,000, with a corps of more than 7,000,000 mules and 9,000,000 jackasses to carry supplies to the front. About 100,000,000 goats could furnish milk, while 21,000,000 buffaloes could stamp out Spain man by man.

Meanwhile 2,000,000 camels could campaign in their familiar conditions of deserts and dry places and 900,000 hardy reindeer could sweep the northern climes.

There are, as nearly as can be estimated, 1,500,000,000 useful animals in the world, including, in addition to those mentioned, enormous numbers of cattle and hogs.

The United States leads in the number of swine, with about 50,000,000—a third of all in the world. Australia leads with sheep—38,000,000, the United States being third with 67,000,000.

European Russia and the United States are about even on horses, with about 25,000,000 each; more than half the mules are here. British India is the principal habitat of the goat; there are 30,000,000 there. The camel is usually associated with Egypt, but but there are only 175,000 there, against 700,000 in Asiatic Russia.

How Col. Lyon Created a Federal Job

COL. CECIL LYON of Texas is a millionaire ranchman who plays politics for the fun of it, and who plays so well he is now credited with the ownership of the Republican party of Texas.

When Col. Lyon gets up out of a chair he opens up like a carpenter's rule, a section at a time. When he talks you can stay out in the next room and miss none of the story, for Col. Lyon is typical of his big state.

Col. Lyon sat in the Press box in Washington one evening and told of the job he got in Texas for a young gentleman of color who wanted to work for the government. Lyon looked over the pay roll of employees at the federal building at home. There were no vacancies and most of the jobs had a long waiting list of applicants. Lyon looked abroad at the lists of employees in other federal buildings. He found a job he didn't know about.

It was the job of a char woman.

Col. Lyon looked it up in the dictionary and found that a char woman was one who polished doorknobs and things. There were plenty of knobs in the federal building back home, but his man was not a woman, and the dictionaries made no mention of char men.

This did not stop Col. Lyon, of Texas. He created the office of char man, the only one in existence, so far as Washington knows, and the young man who wanted to work for the government is polishing knobs with great skill.

IT'S A POOR RULE THAT WON'T WORK BOTH WAYS.

ASKS FOR BIGGEST WARSHIP

SECRETARY MEYER IN FAVOR OF 32,000-TON FIGHTER.

Cabinet Official Plans Making United States Leading Navy Power of World.

Washington.—The building of a world record-breaking battleship of no less than 32,000 tons displacement, at a cost of approximately $18,000,000, and the making of the United States the leading naval power of the world, are planned by Secretary of the Navy Meyer.

This was what Secretary Meyer is said to have told the members of the house naval committee was his ultimate plan, and what he would ask congress to authorize next year. The members of the committee stated that the secretary's radical plans for naval advancement were favorably received by the committee.

At the session of the committee over the stenographer was barred, and the secretary discussed freely with the members his plans for the navy. He said that it was his purpose that the United States should not follow in the wake of any other nation in naval advancement.

PAROLE WRIT IS STAYED

Supreme Court Justices Announce Proceedings Under Decision Stopped Until April Term.

Chicago.—The justices of the supreme court of Illinois, at a meeting in Chicago, issued an order directing that all further proceedings in the Joyce case, which resulted in the parole law of 1899 being declared invalid, be stayed until the April term of court.

It also was announced that the decision in the Joyce case shall not be acted on as a final judgment until the petition for a rehearing is disposed of. This means that attempts to secure the release of prisoners in the state penitentiaries on the theory that the parole law of 1899 is void will be ineffectual until the supreme court is again heard from.

Troy, N. Y.—The will of Mrs. Hannah M. Earl, widow of William S. Earl of Troy, founder of Earl & Willis, collar manufacturers, has been filed for probate here. The estate is valued at $2,000,000. Only $65,000 is left to charitable institutions.

Deputy and Negro Are Killed.

Memphis, Tenn.—Deputy Sheriff W. H. Lucy, in an effort to arrest a negro near here Friday, was shot and instantly killed by the negro, who in turn was killed by two other deputies.

ALDRICH WINS HIS FIGHT

Senate Committee Report Railroad Bill Without Proviso Limiting Jurisdiction of Commerce Court.

Washington.—Senator Aldrich Friday won his fight in the senate committee on interstate commerce to keep out of the administration railroad bill a proviso that will limit the jurisdiction of the proposed court of commerce to the power now conferred on circuit courts of the United States.

If this victory can be clinched in the fight that is coming on the floor of the senate, the new bill will open up to the corporations such opportunities for protracted litigation as practically to nullify the advantages of the proposed court of commerce. In point of fact, the whole plan of the president to be endangered by this insistence of Senator Aldrich upon a broad court review.

Moreover, if Aldrich wins his fight for a broad court review of all the administrative acts of the interstate commerce commission there is danger that most of the practical benefits of the Hepburn bill will go by the board, because of the opportunity that will be furnished to the railroads for interminable litigation.

MARDIZ GAINS BIG VICTORY

Insurgent Army in Nicaragua Is Practically Annihilated, Says Report. Hundreds Killed and Wounded.

Managua, Nicaragua.—The government reports a decisive victory over the insurgents at Tipitapa. Bulletins posted here Thursday announce that Gen. Chamorro's army practically has been annihilated.

The dead and wounded will number nearly 1,600, according to reports. The insurgents are said to have lost 1,100 and the government 400.

Train loads of wounded are being cared for in emergency hospitals. The hospitals are surrounded by weeping women and relatives of the soldiers begging admittance. The scene throughout the city is pitiful in the extreme.

Despite the reports of disaster Gen. Chamorro is still unscathed and the government is strangely apprehensive lest he appear with a new force at some unexpected point.

BANK BOOKKEEPER IS HELD

George W. Coleman Arrested in Boston Charged with Looting Cambridge Bank.

Cambridge, Mass.—Along with the discovery that George W. Coleman's peculations from the National City bank would be at least $160,000, information came to the authorities that the young bookkeeper was contributing liberally to the support of at least six women and had been the victim of a clique of New York gamblers.

Coleman was arrested upon his arrival here and is locked up in the police station, being unable to furnish $50,000 bail.

To Safeguard Depositors.

Washington.—A bill which would enact into federal law the provisions of statutes of several states, making it a felony for officers or employees of national banks to receive money on deposit when the institution was in an insolvent condition, was favorably reported by the house banking and currency committee.

Boy Punished; Found Dead.

Providence, R. I.—For some fault ten-year-old Gerald Guinness was on Saturday locked in a room by his mother, and when she went to liberate him she found him dead. The lad had accidentally turned on the gas and asphyxiated himself.

Taft's Cousin Is Dead.

Florence.—Frederic Fairchild Raymond, a Boston lawyer, and a cousin of President Taft, traveling with his young daughter, died suddenly Saturday.

NEVER TASTED FLESH

Philadelphia Girl Vegetarian All Her Life.

Miss Ora Kress is Not Interested in the Boycott on the Meat Trust—She Bars Feathers on Her Hats.

Philadelphia, Pa.—There is one young woman in this city who is not at all concerned about the outcome of the anti-meat crusade, or the beef trust investigation, and that is Miss Ora Kress, a junior at the Woman's Medical college. Miss Kress is a vegetarian, not one who adopts it as a fad, but one who has never tasted meat from the time of her birth, 22 years ago.

Her father, Dr. D. H. Kress, superintendent of the Seventh Day Adventist sanitarium at Washington, D. C., is an ardent advocate of vegetarianism, and he has brought up his daughter in accordance with his views.

Miss Kress is none the worse off for her abstinence from meat. Healthy and robust, with a clear complexion, a pleasant temper and genial disposition, she is the favorite of friends and fellow-students.

Time and again her chums endeavored to tempt her with a "strife, well done," or a brown turkey drumstick, but she resisted the temptation.

"Do you know," it often strikes me so funny," said Miss Kress, with a laugh, "to see people gorging the carcasses of some dead animal or fowl down their throats. It is repulsive to me."

"Why kill living things for food when the earth is so generous with her bounty of healthful, nourishing food?"

"Do you believe in vegetarianism because it is healthful or because it is humane?" she was asked.

"Both," she answered.

"Do you wear plumes or feathers?"

"Oh, no; that would be inconsistent."

"Is not the human alimentary canal

so constructed as to be able to digest meat and fat?" she was questioned.

"Fat, not meat," was the answer. "Butter is fat, too. Then it must be remembered that wheat and nuts contain a great deal of fat."

"The ancient Greeks, who attained the highest point in the development of the human form and who gave so much to the world that is beautiful and artistic, subsisted almost entirely upon vegetable food. Flesh food was a luxury to them, and when they ate meat abundantly they began to degenerate."

"Do you find your light food nourishing and satisfying?" she was asked.

"Do I look as if I were underfed?" she retorted. "And then remember that I work rather hard and need nutritious food."

Oatmeal, eggs, butter, milk, bread and ice cream are the principal articles of food in this remarkable young woman's diet. Sometimes fruit and candies relieve the monotony of her course.

"You see, we are not vegetarians in the fullest sense of the word," added Miss Kress. "Extremists insist upon vegetable food only, and place the ban upon milk and eggs, as well. We, however, use milk and eggs, because it does not require the killing of life. But fish, of course, is in the same category with meat."

Improved Cutting Blowpipe.

The cutting blowpipe, of which so many surprising things have been reported, has recently been improved in France in a way to render it more generally useful. Two inflammable gases must be employed. One is required to keep the metal at a high temperature. The other is oxygen to concentrate action by oxidation along the line of the cut. For heating, either coal gas, acetylene or hydrogen is employed, but as there is sometimes difficulty in procuring a supply of these gases, the new blowpipe is arranged to use instead of the ordinary gasoline employed by motorists.

Superstition of Chinese.

The Chinese are a superstitious people, and think it a bounden duty to keep the body intact, and if by any misfortune they are compelled to lose a limb by amputation they invariably ask for the severed member and keep it in a box. Sometimes they will actually eat it, thinking it only right that that which has been taken from the body should be returned to it. On this same principle an extracted tooth will be carefully preserved or ground to powder and swallowed in water.

ONLY NECESSARY TO TREAT STOMACH, SAYS COOPER

The new theory advanced by L. T. Cooper relative to the human stomach has attracted such widespread attention that the public in cities visited by the young man has been joined by many physicians in a discussion of his beliefs and medicines.

Mr. Cooper says human health is dependent almost entirely upon the stomach. He says that no disease can be conquered without first alleviating all stomach disorders. He further says that most men and women of this generation are half-sick owing to degenerate stomachs. And lastly, he claims that his New Discovery medicine will rejuvenate the human stomach in 90 days.

Cooper has been traveling from one city to another, conducting in each what he calls a campaign of education. For the past year he has met the public in the larger cities of the country, and his success has been phenomenal. Thousands of people have flocked to his headquarters wherever he has gone, and the sale of his medicine has been beyond anything of the kind ever before witnessed.

Possibly the most interesting feature of the attention this young man has attracted is what his army of followers, whom he has converted to his beliefs through his medicines, have to say on the subject. The following statements are from two well-known residents of Chicago and Boston, respectively, and the enthusiasm of these is characteristic of Cooper's admirers generally.

Mrs. H. D. Mack, of 3201 State street, Chicago, says: "I have been suffering for 12 years from a combination of stomach trouble, catarrh and constipation. I had a gnawing pain in the pit of my stomach, a sort of a dull pain that I could not quite understand. Then there was a dull headache, and my mind seemed to be wandering continually. I could not eat, and what little solid food I did eat I could not retain on my stomach. I tried every remedy I could think of, and also tried out a number of patent medicines, but without any apparent result. It was through one of my friends that I heard of Cooper's preparation, and I immediately decided to try some of it. It is two weeks since I took my first dose of it, and I feel like a new woman. The headache seems to have disappeared, and the pain in my stomach, along with it. The medicine is worth its weight in gold, and I want to thank Mr. Cooper for what he has done for me."

Mr. Edwin F. Morse, of 20 Oakley street, Dorchester, a suburb of Boston, says: "For three years I had not a well day. My stomach was in frightful shape; the mere thought of food would nauseate me, and I really had a horror of anything to eat. All solid food would cause me extreme indigestion, bloating and gas on my stomach, and nothing tasted right. Some time ago I got some of this Cooper's medicine, about which there is so much talk. I actually feel as well and strong as a boy over since the first bottle. Every sign of stomach trouble has disappeared, and I have a hearty appetite and eat three square meals; everything seems to taste good. Anyone who knows what chronic indigestion is can appreciate what this means to me. I consider this the most remarkable medicine I ever heard of."

Cooper's New Discovery is sold by all druggists. If your druggist cannot supply you, we will forward you the name of a druggist in your city who will. Don't accept "something just as good."—The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Weak Spot in His Defense.

A religious worker was visiting a southern penitentiary, when one prisoner in some way took his fancy. This prisoner was a negro, who evinced a religious fervor as deep as it was gratifying to the caller.

"Of what were you accused?" the prisoner was asked.

"Dey says I took a watch," answered the negro. "I made a good fight. I had a dandy lawyer, and he done prove an alibi wit ten witnesses. Den my lawyer, he shore made a strong speech to de jury. But it wa'n't no use, sah! I got ten years."

"I don't see why you were not acquitted," said the religious worker.

"Well, sah," explained the prisoner, "dere was shore one weak spot 'bout my defense—dey found de watch in my pocket."—Tit-Bits.

State-Flower Agitation

The state-flower agitation, which is always in progress somewhere in the broad land, is raging just now in Virginia. The modest, unassuming daisy was suggested. The charge was immediately made that it was first brought south by northern soldiers during the Civil war. This has been indignantly denied, and so the discussion of the merits of the flower has been deferred until this side issue has been decided. The daisy has already been accepted as the state flower of Tennessee, where no question as to its origin appears to have been raised. If, however, it is proved in Virginia that it is a Yankee product, there will undoubtedly be a movement among the Tennessee irreconcilables to rescind the action previously taken, and substitute some blossom that can boast an undefiled Southern lineage. In the meantime, the daisy will brighten the landscape in its season with undiminished cheerfulness.

Mob Spirit in Philadelphia

A strike of street railway employees is almost sure to be attended with violence. That is due to the peculiar exposure of a railway company's property to the attacks of mobs. These attacks are not always made or directed by strikers, but there is reason to believe that often they are the leaders or planners, if not participants in them. Philadelphia just now is experiencing an unusual outbreak of the mob spirit, due to the strike of the street car men there. Reports show the most disgraceful and brutal acts on the part of the strikers or their sympathizers. Cars have been stoned and passengers injured. Cars have also been held up and burned in the streets. There is no possible excuse for this lawlessness. The men and boys engaged in it are dangerous criminals, and as fast as they can be apprehended and convicted should be sent to prison. The public has no right to sympathize with such outrages, and it is the duty of the authorities to suppress them with a strong hand.

Americans in Canada

Canada is sometimes accused of looking with a jealous eye on American products, and occasionally even of discriminating against them. There is one notable exception, however. There is no prejudice against the American emigrant to the Canadian Northwest. On the contrary he receives an enthusiastic welcome and a warm invitation to send for his neighbors. The Canadian government recognizes good timber for pioneer development, and has no hesitation in acknowledging the American's superiority in this particular. An analysis of Canadian immigration statistics shows that during the past five years more than 300,000 Americans, representing the best type of home builders, crossed the boundary. They represented 43 per cent. of the immigration arrivals, while Englishmen represent but 18 per cent. It is a well known fact, however, that the average Canadian can live on much more harmonious terms with the American than with his blood relatives from across the Atlantic.

Meat Boycott Failure

The meat boycott has gone the way of many other spasmodic popular reforms. If anybody is still refraining from indulgence in meat with a view to bringing down the price of it, the news should be broken to him as gently as possible that he might as reasonably economize in the use of matches to avoid a future lumber famine. It was clear enough when the first outbreak in favor of the meat boycott occurred that it would be futile. For one thing, it touched only one of the staple articles of food while prices were equally exorbitant on all others. Then, again, the American people don't know how to live without meat or on even the cheaper cuts of meat. Further, while the boycotters were starving their stomachs the packers could chuck their products into cold storage and wait. They were not worried, though, of course, they would rather have the good will than the ill will of their customers and consumers. Once more the boycott as a weapon for redressing grievances has failed. It is a clumsy, dangerous weapon, anyhow, and the sooner it is entirely discarded the better for society.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

HORSE-BARN PLAN WITH SPACE FOR CARRIAGES

Intended for Farm of from Two to Four Hundred Acres Where from Eight to Fourteen Animals Are Kept.

Horse Barn 30x56 Feet; Carriage Room 30x26 Feet; Plain or Hip Roof.

I would not think it good economy of room to keep carriages in the horse barn, but it is much more convenient to drive in and unhitch under cover.

I am sending a rough drawing patterned mostly after our horse barn, with some later ideas added, writes C. C. Curtis in Hoard's Dairyman.

This barn is intended for a farm of from two to four hundred acres where from eight to fourteen horses are kept and several colts are raised each year. The main barn is 30x56 feet, and the 10x10 feet. The boxes are made with double chutes and two grain boxes, so can be used for two horses when necessary.

There is a room for work harnesses. Under the stairway is a water tank. It is built with an L to the right of the stairway 10x16 inches, where the horses drink. This L comes out of the adjoining box.

There is a granary 10x10 feet, with two bins. The granary and harness rooms, also the box stalls, are lighted by stall sashes in each.

MANAGING THE YOUNG COLT

Begin the Training Early and Use Firm But Gentle Methods—Exercise Care Not to Frighten Him.

(BY R. B. RUSSELL.) When the colt is a few days old I put a strong, pliable halter on its head, but never try to lead it at first, simply put the halter on every day until it does not care for it.

After the colt is thoroughly accustomed to the halter, put a rope on the halter and pull just a little and he will soon learn to come when you pull on the rope.

When leading him around out of doors hold to the chin piece of the halter so as to keep him from rearing up, as he will likely do.

I believe in teaching colts to wear harness very young. Of course it should be very light harness.

At weaning time put a strong halter on the colt; tie him to the manger and watch him so as to teach him not to break loose. If he pulls back speak kindly to him and pat him and he will soon quit and stand quietly.

When he is broken to stand hitched put lines on him, but walk at his shoulders at first so as to keep him from getting frightened. Every time you take him out walk further back until you can walk behind him and teach him to turn back at your voice.

Drive the colt around the house and barn, showing him papers, drive him through water, show him umbrellas, and, in fact, most everything that he is likely to see when traveling around so he will not be afraid of them when he becomes grown.

When about one year old the regular single harness may be put on the colt. Leave it on him for a few hours so as to get him used to the crupper, and when you come into the stable again speak to him gently and take the harness off, pulling the backband all the way down to the tail gently and then he will not be afraid of it.

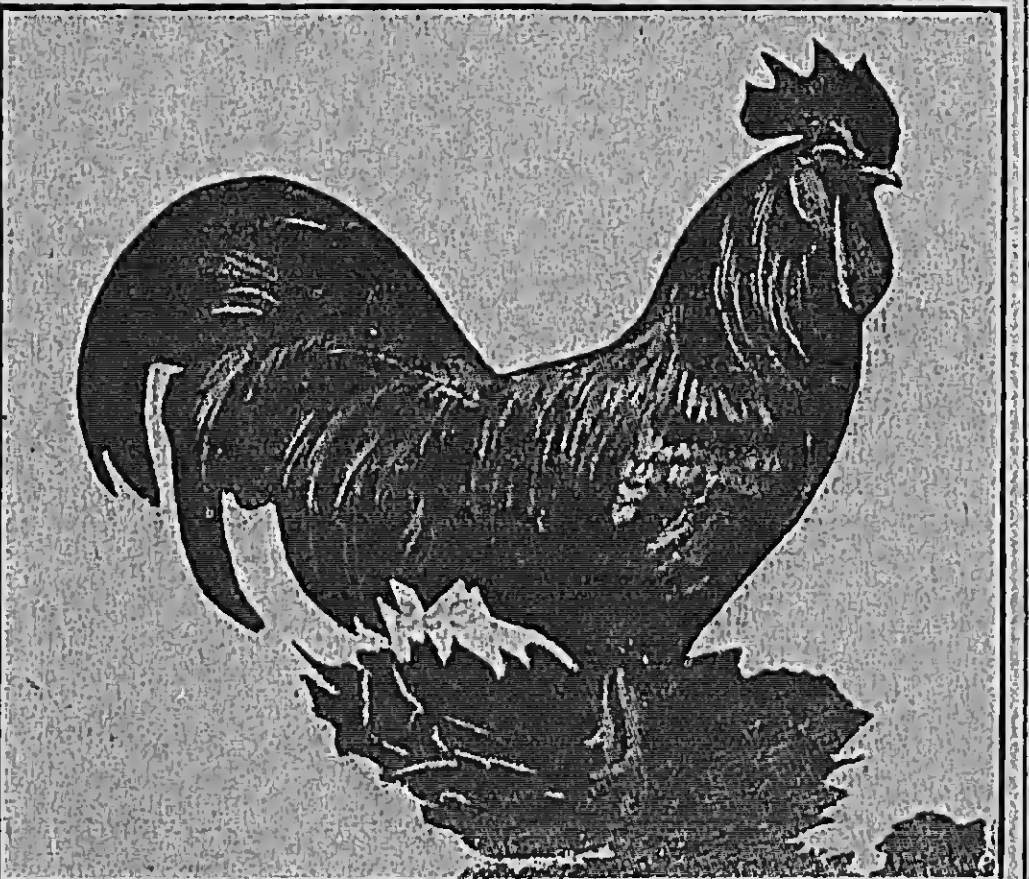

When the colt is quite young teach him to stop and start at your command and then when he is first put in harness to work he will know what you mean when you want him to stop or start.

Some Weights and Measures. Here are some facts worth remembering: Fifty pounds of butter make one firkin; 100 pounds of fish make one quintal; 200 pounds of beef or pork make one barrel; five pounds make one keg; 100 pounds make one cask; 25 pounds make one barrel of soap; 280 pounds make one barrel of salt; four inches make one hand; 640 acres make one square mile, and 36 square miles make one township.

Training Horses. It is claimed by those who have trained many horses that, taking the colt when training first begins, they can be trained to walk over four miles an hour. The walking gait is the most important one to the farm and road horse. The mistake with many in training young horses is that they are too soon put to trotting, which is a gait they more readily learn than fast walking.

Drying Timbers. After timbers have been cut from the log they should be dried as rapidly and evenly as possible so as to remove the moisture and prevent checks. Wood should not be placed in contact with the ground until it has been thoroughly dried; otherwise some fungus will enter and cause rapid decay.

SINGLE COMB BROWN LEGHORN

If it be true that "handsome is as handsome does," the brown Leghorn is doubly beautiful. It is a laying breed par excellence, says Orange Judd Farmer. Next to that, it is eminent as a forger and a converter of waste food into abundance of eggs—large, white-shelled ones that command an extra price with the private custom trade. Strictly speaking, the Leghorn is the egg business bird, and as such it commands itself to the farmer. A few common hens, or an incubator, are needed for hatching, because the Leghorns usually are too intent on laying to be bothered by raising families.

BURDENS LIFTED FROM BAD BACKS

Weary is the back that bears the burden of kidney ills. There's no rest nor peace for the man or woman who has a bad back. The distress begins in early morning. You feel lame and not refreshed. It's hard to get out of bed. It hurts to stoop to tie your shoes. All day the ache keeps up. Any sudden movement sends sharp twinges through the back. It is torture to stoop or straighten. At night the sufferer retires to toss and twist and groan. Backache is kidney ache—a throbbing, dull aching in the kidneys. Plasters or liniments won't do. You must get at the cause, inside.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE SICK KIDNEYS

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

A Cure of Severe Kidney Disease Verified by Test of Time. William M. Sears, 425 W. Cherry Street, Nevada, Mo., says: "I was convinced of the great value of Doan's Kidney Pills through personal experience. Four or five months ago I suffered a great deal from a pain across the small of my back, extending at times into my limbs and shoulders. When I stooped or did any work that brought a strain on the muscles of my back, my trouble was aggravated. I tried a number of remedies but without success. After a short time I could see that they were benefiting me, and the contents of two and one-half boxes cured me." (Statement given in May, 1909.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

On Dec. 3rd, 1908, Mr. Sears said: "I still have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills. I feel justified in re-endorsing this remedy as it has done so much for me."

How To Tell When The Kidneys Are Disordered

PAINFUL SYMPTOMS

Backache, sideache, pains when stooping or lifting, sudden sharp twinges, rheumatic pains, neuralgia, painful, scanty or too frequent urination, dizzy spells, drowsy.

URINARY SYMPTOMS

Discolored or cloudy urine. Urine that contains sediment. Urine that stains the linen. Painful passages. Blood or shreds in the urine. Let a bottleful of the morning urine stand for 24 hours. If it shows a cloudy or fecy settling, or a layer of fine grains, like brick-dust, the kidneys are disordered.

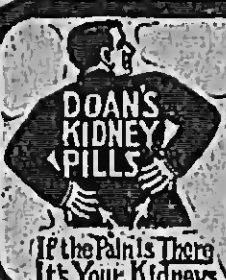

NEVER ANY RETURN

A Complete Cure of Kidney Trouble and Drapay

Mrs. L. L. Babers, 1615 Terry St., Houston, Texas, says: "I hold a very high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and with good reason, for three years ago they cured me of kidney trouble that had clung to me for several years. There was a dropping of my feet and limbs in addition to other symptoms of kidney complaint, and although I used various remedies, I was not helped until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. Two boxes of this preparation cured me and I have never had the slightest return of my trouble. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many people who have questioned me about them, and I know of several cases in which they have done the same good work."

Loraine Pester, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pester, of this place, was severely burned last week. He fell into a washtub of boiling hot water. His back was quite badly burned, but he is recovering rapidly.

They are getting busy over here. Tuesday night Chas. Harbaugh's office and J. J. McMahon's place were both held up. At Harbaugh's they gained entrance through the front door and everything was thrown about on the floor. When the teamster came in he was afraid to go through the yard for fear of meeting the burglar, but found nothing of them, and the burglars found nothing. In McMahon's they gained entrance through the front by pushing in the transom window in the basement. They found nothing but a little extra booze. Hereafter they will know better than to stop off at Lake Villa.

SYNDICATE IS URGED TO BUILD

BELT LINE SPUR

Acting on rumors to the effect that the district between Waukegan and Roundout, north and south, and between Waukegan and a little beyond Whren-ton, east and west, is to be the scene of a future great industrial development of a kind the nature of which is not yet known, a citizen proposed a Belt line spur for Waukegan and west of Waukegan so that city would be in a position to do its share of the development to come.

"I will be one of a syndicate to build a spur line from the Belt line to the territory west of Waukegan," he said, "and will gladly do even a little more than my share. I believe that the district west of Waukegan clear to Roundout is to be the scene of a great industrial development and have been so assured by a number of importance and standing.

What is going to locate there I do not know and he would not tell me, but he is a man whose word is convincing. He is not in the habit of talking, either."

It is believed that the North Shore Electric Company foresees the industrial development of the district, which is right at Chicago's door, so to speak, and that one reason for its anxiety to get a network of power lines across the county is to tap this field at several different points.

Waukegan and Lake county, by the way, are in the Chicago manufacturing district officially now, as Census Agent Zach Elkins of Chicago, who is to supervise the taking of the industrial census, has so decreed.

Tickling in the Throat

"Just a little tickling in the throat!" Is that what troubles you? But it hangs on! Can't get rid of it! Home remedies don't take hold. You need something stronger—a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral contains healing, quieting, and soothing properties of the highest order. Ask your doctor about this. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Constipation positively prevents good health. Then why allow it to continue? An active liver is a great preventive of disease. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. What does your doctor say?

The Correct Corset for Your New Spring Gown is Here

It is impossible for a new garment to fit properly over an old, ill shaped corset. In fact one specialist on apparel has said that proper corseting is the greatest asset to a woman's personal appearance.

The garments of today require greater perfection in the corset than ever as the graceful lines are largely dependent upon the effective molding of the figure. This desired shape can only be acquired by the use of a correctly designed and perfect fitting corset.

We carry four different makes of corsets, each one of wide reputation and possessing the required merits. They are the Gossard, the C. B., the Nemo and the Kabo. These four lines constitute what we consider the best and strongest corset department in the city.
